

Ellie Goulding, Animal

I'll show you all of the places I'm dreaming of.
I'll take you to the Ocean,
I'll bring the Sun

We are seventeen, we are just begun...
I have loved a five four and then some but you are the one

Wake up in the morning, we're paralysed...
We'll fly into the garden like butterflies

There will be no blood and there'll be no pain
I want to fall in love with you again again again

You have stolen all my senses There's a fever in my heart and you are taking my defences
You are pulling me apart

Forever we're young and we are dying and will spill all our blood
So i will take away my feelings
I will be an animal An animal

I'll tie you in my arms, i will smother you We'll tell each other lies like we tell the truth

I'll colour in the sky and I'll colour you I want to draw on your skin
again again again

We will run away from danger
We will run away
