

Ellie Goulding, Love I'm Given

I'm alive
I know my heart is beating
But my head in the sky
I found a different meaning
Since you came in my life

Now all of time is standing still
Shining so bright
Deer in headlights
I know I did wrong
I used to think that I was so invincible
I tore myself to pieces
Had to put on a show
You put me back together
And it feels like home
It feels like home

And I am trying to make the most of my mistakes
If you were me I would do the same thing
Some things in my past I cannot change
But I can change

And maybe I am playing
For the things I've done
And maybe I am playing
For the ones I've hurt
