

Ellie Goulding, Still Falling For You

Fire and ice
This love is like fire and ice
This love is like rain and blue skies
This love is like Sun on the rise
This love got me rolling the dice
Don't let me lose
Still falling for you
Still falling for you

Beautiful mind
Your heart got a story with mine
Your heart got me hurting at times
Your heart gave me new kind of highs
Your heart got me feeling so fine
So what to do?
Still falling for you
Still falling for you
It took us a while
With every breath a new day
With love on the line
We had to share our mistakes
But all your flaws and scars are mine
Still falling for you
Still falling for you

And just like that
All I breathe
All I feel
You are all for me, I'm in
And just like that
All I breathe
All I feel
You are all for me
No one can lift me, catch me the way that you do
I'm still falling for you

Brighter than gold
This love shining brighter than gold
This love is like letters in bottle
This love is like out of control
This love never growing old
You make it new
Still falling for you
Still falling for you

It took us a while
Because we were young and unsure
With love on the line
What if we both need more
But all your flaws and scars are mine
Still falling for you
Still falling for you
Still falling for you

And just like that
All I breathe
All I feel
And just like that
All I breathe
All I feel
You are all for me
No one can lift me, catch me the way that you do
I'm still falling for you

Love
Falling, crash into my arms
Love you like this
Like a first kiss
Never let go
Love
Never breaking what we got
Still falling for you
Still falling for

And just like that
All I breathe
All I feel
You are all for me, I'm in
And just like that
All I breathe
All I feel
You are all for me
All for me
Just like that
All I feel is you
All I feel is you
You are all for me
I'm still falling
Just like that
All I feel is you
All I feel is you
You are all for me
No one can lift me, catch me the way that you do
I'm still falling for you
