Elliot Minor, Time After Time

Another day, waking to the same old beat,
Counting doors, walking through the same old street,
Breathing in, breathing out the same,
Nothing's changed, just imitating yesterday,
Counting down, all the opportunities,
It's down to one, now everything is falling on me,
Alarm bells, are warning me to do something soon,
Get away, I've got to get away!!

I hear the sound of something new,
Give me the key to unlock you,

Time after time,
And nothing has changed,
Time after time
And we're still the same
Day after day
And nothing has changed
And now I feel,
That im gonna break, cos i just cannot wait,
To repeat yesterday...

It's just a game where you're the boss and I'm just a slave,
You trap me in, and I just play to entertain,
And nothing more, so make your move and I'll be ok,
I try my best, but all you do is laugh in my face,
A gun shot..!
Will wake you up in the night,
You better run, or you will end up seeing the light,
My heart beat, is warning me to do something soon,
Get away, I've got to get away!

I hear the sound of something new,
I hear the sound of something new,
Give me the key to unlock you,

Time after time,
And nothing has changed,
Time after time
And we're still the same
Day after day,
And nothing has changed
And now I feel,
That I'm gonna break, cos I just cannot wait,
To repeat yesterday-yay-yay-yaaay
