Elliott Smith, Sweet Adeline

Cut this picture into you and me Burn it backwards, kill this history Make it over, make it stay away Or hate'll say the ending that love started to stay

There's a kid a floor below me saying brother can you spare Sunshine for a brother, old man winter's in the air Walked me up a story, asking how you are Told me not to worry, you were just a shooting star

Sweet Adeline Sweet Adeline My Clementine Sweet Adeline

It's a picture-perfect evening and I'm staring down the sun Fully loaded, deaf and dumb and done Waiting for sedation to disconnect my head Or any situation where I'm better off than dead
