

ELO, Mister Kingdom

Daylight comes to those who live,
But those who die, they never see
The sun come shining through their windowpane
They pass away.

Silly girl, to be a fool,
You didn't play the golden rule,
'Cause once you're through with one world,
There's another waiting there.

Help me, such a lonely soul,
In dreams to leave behind the world.
Mister Kingdom, help me please,
To find the rainbow's end.

Looking from this empty room,
The corridors of endless gloom
Go crawling through the night
To meet the dawn that's on its way.

Oh, to sleep, per-chance to dream,
To live again those joyous scenes,
The laughter and the follies
That are locked inside my head.

Help me, such a lonely soul,
In dreams to leave behind the world.
Mister Kingdom, help me please,
To find the rainbow's end.

I can dream of flying high
Above the city's cares and never be afraid of anyone,
'Cause there ain't no one there.

Help me, such a lonely soul,
In dreams to leave behind the world.
Mister Kingdom, help me please,
To find the rainbow's end.

Help me, such a lonely soul,
In dreams to leave behind the world.
Mister Kingdom, help me please,
To find the rainbow's end.
