

ELO, So Fine

Two drifters on the morning sky,
Two drifters sailing wide and high;
When summer breezes blow across your mind,
With you, I will walk the line.

I want it so fine (ooh, ooh),
I want it so fine (ooh, ooh),
I want it so fine (ooh, ooh).

People walking hand in hand,
Everybody's singing to the band.
I want to be where the stars shine bright
And hear sweet music on a summer night.

I want it so fine (ooh, ooh),
I want it so fine (ooh, ooh),
I want it so fine (ooh, ooh).

Sundowners, we'll go on and on,
We'll find the land of the midnight sun;
And when you look, you'll see for miles around,
You'll see the world is in your hand.

I want it so fine (ooh, ooh),
I want it so fine (ooh, ooh),
I want it so fine (ooh, ooh).

Oh, baby, yes, you know just what I want.
I want it so fine (ooh, ooh),
I want it so fine (ooh, ooh),
I want it so fine (ooh, ooh).
