

Eloy, Silent Revolution

An inaudible sound in the midst of the night breaks the silence of dreams

Anger and hatred
against the oppressor are ruling your spirit that's crying for absolution

Ready to break through the barricades you slowly become like a renegade

Consciousness grows like a great wheel on fire deep inside rebel minds denying all regulations

Hovering over
the weeds of society

Over the ages the seed's been sown
how germinating rebellion's grown everywhere

The silent majority runs amok you suddenly feel
an electric shock
in the air

Oceans of minds
lost in the maze of our times

Now gather round
ready to reunite
reunite

Unexpectedly
growing steadily
in the shadows of secrecy there's a power source emanating force
in a gale of resistance all around

Now your blood boils inside feel your pulse running fast there's no way to delay the moment of resolution

Push aside all the fears and ignore all the rules we're approaching the start of the countdown of revolution

Kids

We are the future race
it's our rightful place to make all the changes we know to be due

Can you remember when you were much younger then you looked at the world through your innocent eyes and life was a game you played

Answer

Yes I remember well:
I was so bold and no,
nobody's fool
but they corrected that in the days I spent in school

Kids:

Look at the mess you made

We're in an awful state It wasn't your right to destroy our world
a foolish and terrible crime We're gonna take control We're gonna change it all
We need no permission to do what is right
the future is in our hands