

Elton John & Catherine Britt, Where we both say

A fire that's left unattended
Surely will burn out and die
Now that we're down to nothing but ashes
Is this where we both say goodbye
Is this where two hearts break down and cry
Is this where we let go and give up the fight
Have we reached the point where it's too late to try
Is this where we both say goodbye
It's so hard to go on pretending
The truth is we're living a lie
And it kills me to know our love's dying
Is this where we both say goodbye
Is this where two hearts break down and cry
Is this where we let go and give up the fight
Have we reached the point where it's too late to try
Is this where we both say goodbye
