

Elton John, Never Too Late (From The Film 'Elton

It's never too late
For a wide-open slate
A kiss from a stranger
A thousand first dates

You're an iron man baby
To hell with Heaven's Gate
It's not a moment too soon
If it's never too
Never too late

It's never too late
To go shoot out the moon
We'll go dancing in graveyards
You can keep your balloons

Be a runaway bride
Trading gypsies for grooms
If it's never too late
For a moment too soon

Darling, don't bore me
With the same old tired story
What's new in the news?
Who's hot, where's the glory?

Only dwell in the past
For laughing at time
Don't the years make jokes of all of us?
Let the whole century slide

There's a last time for everything
But we won't ever know
It's a slow dance on a carousel
A walk in the snow

Don't let it cross your mind
Keep a smile upon your lips
And spin 'round the sun
Like the veil never slips

Darling, don't bore me
With the same old tired story
What's new in the news?
Who's hot, where's the glory?

Only dwell in the past
For laughing at time
Don't the years make jokes of all of us?
Let the whole century slide

Well it's never too late
A kiss from a stranger
A thousand first dates

You're an iron man baby
To hell with Heaven's Gate
It's not a moment too soon
If it's never too
Never too late
