Elvis Presley, Tender Feeling

I can't conceal the tender feeling Now that you are close to me I look at you with tender feeling And can't help kiss you tenderly

I offer you a true devotion All life through my love I vow For this is real, this sweet emotion This tender feeling I have now

Somehow I knew from the moment our lips first met You'd be the girl I could never forget

No other love could be appealing I loved you right from the start And with each kiss I'll keep revealing The tender feeling in my heart
