

Emerson Drive, Everyday Woman

You don't put on a lot a make-up
You like to wear your hair pulled back
When the kids'll call you come a runnin'
You always put yourself last
Most people would say

You're an everyday woman
But you're everything to me
You are so beautiful
You're an angel I can see
And I'm gonna love you, I will love you
Everyday woman

How do you juggle this busy life
And still have something left for me
I've asked God why I'm the lucky man
Who gets to live in your loves strength
Maybe to this world

You're an everyday woman
But you're everything to me
You are so beautiful
You're an angel I can see
And I'm gonna love you, I will love you
Everyday woman

And I'm gonna love you, I will love you
Everyday woman
