

Emigrate, Let Me Break

I would live for you and break my heart in two I would give for you like only fools would do I would hear you out and tell you all I could I would take your doubts and show you what I should

Let me break
Let me break you down
For your sake
I will break you down

I would try for you
try to walk you through I would fight for you to prove that I am true

Let me break
Let me break you down
For your sake
I will break you down

Break, break down

I would use for you
alleviate your pain
I would lose for you
again and again

Let me break, for your sake

Let me break
Let me break you down
For your sake
I will break you down

Let me break
Let me break you down
For your sake
I will break you down

Break, break down
