

Emilio Navaira, There'll Be No More Crying

There'll be no more crying
There'll be no more misery
There'll be no more crying
As long as you're with me

There is no reason
For you to go back and
Keep getting treated that way
There is no pleasing
Someone whose heart
Doesn't ache whenever you're away

There'll be no denying
There'll be no more jealousy
There'll be no more crying
As long as you're with me

And if you get thinking
Was it that bad
If it gets harder to tell
If you get wondering
Should you go back
Remember every single tear that fell

Chorus

There'll be no more crying
No more crying no more crying
There'll be no more crying as long as you're with me
