

Emily Harder, So I wait

So I wait for wait for the day that you will come
And tell me everythings alright
And that nothing will come in-between us
Youll be holding me too tight
See I travelled a long road finally reached the end
But I cant see the prize Ill have to start over again
Somehow you got my attention now
And I cant look away
I cant tell what got me first
Youre voice your smile or your face
Knowing everything thatll happen aint what I want
But I would like a little sneak-peek so I could finish this song
But you know its not that easy dont have to tell you twice
Ill figure something else out just need some advice
Somehow you got my attention now
And I cant look away
I cant tell what got me first
Your voice your smile or your face
I can drive myself crazy in a matter of seconds
All it takes is for me to see your picture to look at your face
But I know its gonna happen
Cant you tell
Im so caught up in this daydream but I got no doubts
CHORUS X2
So I wait for the day
That you will come
