

Emily Loizeau, I'm Alive

In each little thing I do
I can find a piece of you
In each twist of time
In each twist of mind
That I find to think of you
I'm alive
It's so strange to be alive

When I go to sleep at night
And I'm scared and there's no light
And I know one day
I'll be in my grave
When I think that I'll lose you
I'm alive
It's so strange to be alive

Could we stay around
Like the big blue sea
That has been around
For some billion centuries
'Cause I think I could do
With a trip with you
On the big blue sea
For some billion centuries

It might take me two thousand years
Not to sing this song in tears
For I feel so small
In this big black hole
And you're the one that makes me feel
I'm alive
It's so strange to be alive

Could we stay around
Like the big blue sea
That has been around
For some billion centuries
'Cause I think I could do
With a trip with you
On the big blue sea
For some billion centuries

But her daddy now is dead
And she wishes that she'd said
All these loving words
'Cause they only hurt
Now she knows that it's too late
And she's alive
It's so strange to be alive

Could we stay around
Like the big blue sea
That has been around
'Cause I think I could do
With a trip with you
On the big blue sea

Could we stay around
That has been around
'Cause I think I could do

With a trip with you
On the big blue sea

On the big blue sea
