Emm Gryner, Siamese Star

Oh do do... Oh do do... Oh do do...

New York is getting dark Though the orange lights embrace the clouds Still I don't know where you are

And I went running through your homeland Every second person with your name And no you don't see this like I see it Still you're missing in my sky all the same You're missing in my sky all the same Siamese Star

Oh do do... Oh do do...

You would sigh, you would spit To here me talk like this 'Cause I'm the party crasher The arsonist jumping off a cliff

And I went running through your homeland Every second person with your name And no you don't see this like I see it Still you're missing in my sky all the same You're missing in my sky all the same Siamese Star

Oh do do... Oh do do... Oh do do...
