Emm Gryner, Southern Dreamer

Waste it all in the Rend, or laugh it down the drain, and I'm Standing right here beside you, now Morph into a creature that no one understands, and I will Lay my life beside you, now

You racing ahead, like there's no tomorrow Only an end

Run, run, run southren dreamer If I ever had a saviour, it was you Run, run, run southren dreamer Whenever I need a detour to the truth If I ever had a saviour, it was you

Blue moon over Malibu Drown it in the ocean, and I'm Standing right here beside you, now Work it out on the 405 No one here is waking up to die, and I'll Lay my life beside you now

And you're racing again, like there's no limitation 'Round the California bend
