

EMMI, Butterfly

When you go to sleep at night
Do you wonder whos inside
Inside your head making all those sick dreams
And when you close your door at night
Push it against the wall real tight
Just making sure theres no one standing behind it

See me dancing like a butterfly
See me sleeping like an unborn child
Hear me breaking my hand in the cradle
Dancing like a butterfly

Scared to open your eyes in the dark
Moving shadows, they come from the wall
Rapped up in your sheets waiting, you see them crawl
Finally drifting away, till you sleep
Hair moves down to your face, real sweet
Reaching arms, they tried but did not get ya

See me dancing like a butterfly
See me sleeping like an unborn child
Hear me breaking my hand in the cradle
Dancing like a butterfly