

Emo Side Project, Always

this town really sucks without you here and im down with every second you are gone so come back im not ready to be alone my bed is so blank and empty without you and I bet you really miss me too why does everything have to be so hard is it hot in here or is it just me!

always I am thinking about you no way will I ever forget you today I will sing a song about you always I will always think about you now!

Whoa hey, another guy your talking to man hes gay forget about him cause hes not great hes not good enough for you this distance cant even break our love apart eff him he cant go whoa with a car youre great you know what two plus two is now can someone please get this guy a towel always I will want to hold you so close and be the only one beside you I hope you think the same about me always this song will be for you and dont forget, that I love you today I will think of you you and only you
