

Emo Side Project, Don't Forget To Read In Between

I know its hard for you cause it was so hard for me I know we'll get through tonight some days I don't feel like getting up and one more day without you I think of how messed up this would be without you

turned on it turns out
we'll be just fine
we'll make it through tonight

you are the thing that keeps me up at night and the thing that sings me to sleep you are the only one that keeps running through my mind but I wouldnt have it any other way I wouldnt want another day and then I think of how messed up this would be without you

we'll be just fine
tonight under this ocean blue sky
turned on it turns out
we'll be just fine

and Im still floating in between black and white lines decisions clouded by not knowing wrong from right and now Im ready to start forgetting forgetting those wasted memories forgetting these wasted memories of you forgetting you is easier said then done
