

Emo Side Project, Floating in dreams i have i feel you but are you even real i long so much to show you, i long so much to hold you i can't say how i feel the words just will not spill ive tried so much to hold you i mumbled words behind you played with your hair in class why wouldnt you just ask i know you feel the same every night i say your name

how i feel to today
you can't imagine the words id say to make you feel like youre floating atop the world even though i wrote this song i try to play along and act like youre not there it's so hard not to care so how are you good at it when i say "hi" you throw a fit ive tired so hard to hold you maybe this song will show you

how i feel to today
to make you feel like youre floating atop the world

i know you cared for me i know you're right for me no matter how hard i try all i do is cry

to make you feel like youre floating atop the world
