

Emo Side Project, For Tonight

walking through these dark halls tonight hoping that i might find you in the corner curled in a ball hiding your eyes from the world wearing all black just like your soul wanting to see you again in my dreams i do every waking moment spent.. i wish i was with you so why is it that you dont care for me

like i do

wanting to be with you tonight but you werent right by my side you don't see as well as i do youre my only clue in the world to keep me alive so stand right by my side for tonight holding your hand last night wishing that i might this could be my last chance to write a song for you
