

Emo Side Project, Forever

you're so close to me yet you're so far away you're everything i am and every single thing i want to be today i was staring up at the clouds and i swear to god i saw your face when i look out my window and stare at the stars i dream of you being with me im too afraid to tell you and you're too afraid to ask me but i love you so much i can't breathe if i ask you to take my hand what would you say i want you to be with me forever if you left tomorrow without taking me id cry forever eternally i know that i think of you this way and i love you more than life itself i want you to stay
