

Emo Side Project, It's Always The Quiet Calm Nig

it was quiet calm night when you stepped on my porch tender and kind and you looked to the sky with a note in your hand that was signed in pink pen and bangs hanging down like they always did and i waited inside with that smile on my face my fist clenched so tight, my heart started to race as i waited for the door bell to ring so i could tell you, you're my everything so then you finally did and i got up real slow moved towards the door, so you wouldn't go i looked you in the eyes and took a deep breath you handed me the note, i commented on your dress i said, &quot;honey, you're so cute, i just wanted you to know that i've always felt this way it's just so hard to show everytime you say &quot;i love you andrew&quot;, everytime you laugh i really think that we could last&quot; so i opened the note when you stood there so brave it said, &quot;hush, i'm not cute, silly! you're just really insane&quot; and i smiled but i couldn't think of what to say because if i said the wrong thing you might not want to stay so i just took your hand and put it in mine you didn't seem to mind, no you didn't seem to mind so i pulled you real close, so you couldn't get away and i said, &quot;darling, you're cute no matter what you say&quot; and you looked up me and smiled and said okay