

Emo Side Project, My List Of 15 Things To Avoid

i painted all the stars the color of your eyes in hopes i'd make through this night you always say
"to bad you're not sensitive like him to bad your eyes don't compare to his"

i'd rather watch the sunrise then watch myself melt into your eyes i'd rather fall with the moon then fall in love with you here's my list of 15 things to avoid this february and 3 new ways to hurt you i wrote them down on a napkin thats laying somewhere around this town i wrote your name and address on it in hopes someone would deliver it to you for me i'm scared to see the way you act have you ever let a balloon drift away and later said "i wish i would of attached myself to it" and let myself fall away from you this red room painted with white roses and draped in black curtains is so much more beautiful without your eyes to block the sight

in hopes someone would deliver it to you for me

happy valentines my love goodnight and goodbye
