

Emo Side Project, Sweetie

sweetie the words that you wrote for me were like a vivid memory but the unicorns that we watched across the skies were nothing compared to you and i would take you in my arms to show you how much i'm in love with you i'd lay my head on your chest just to hear you breathe and taste your lips and i would hold your hand and i'll wait until time stands still cause you're so cute it might kill sweetie the words that i write for you you make me feel so nice but the stars that we wished upon on the night on that sky, they shine so bright and if someone was to ask me with whom id spend eternity i'd choose you
