

Emo Side Project, The Moon Is Expensive

the moon is expensive and our sins are replenished will i cry tonight alone again a knife at my wrist

i'll cry for you as well i swear this is hell i'll dream again tonight about you being with me

take pills and pretend it's all right get so stoned u'll forget tonight i'll piss away my life or bleed to death thinking of you

well i forget
just why you live and why i even try to breathe i'll write it out read it over use it now to burn your house

and our love is replenished i'll drive off this cliff cause i can't take it give or take a few good lines this song is about my life and how i'm washed away like a spider on a rainy day

well i don't care promise me that you'll go away and never come back again take my heart back with you i don't need it anyway
