

Enchant, Interact

Can you look into my eyes before I look away?
Can you catch my gaze?
Can you see what's deep inside a lost and lonely man?
Can you understand that I wear a mask of fear?
I cannot be betrayed, that's why I'm so afraid
To interact with the other side
Instead I act alone, decisions are my own
Look, listen
Me, myself and I - we will be all right
Living all alone in a dark and empty home
Just a loner trying to survive
Needing companionship to keep oneself alive
My body and soul are mine alone to share
Making conversation with someone who isn't there
If I could just
Interact, minds making contact
Interact, when chemicals react
How can you reach this burning man?
You sense his pain and passion, in a silent scream he cries
His tale is told through his eyes
You cannot look too long before you hear his song
Look, listen
Me, myself and I - we are doing fine
Kid myself I must, there's no one else I trust
How can I tell my secrets, when we already know?
How can I show my fears, when I've already shone myself
To myself, for myself, all by myself
Interact, minds making contact
Interact, when chemicals react
Interact, there's no turning back
If I could just interact
