

Endanger, The One

Strophe 1

For all the time weve been together
I learned a lot about you from your deepest inside I am looking thru your eyes but still you do not know who I am

Strophe 2

I remember things that you have forgotten and show them to you in your dreams I put things right while you are asleep and shelter you when you are weak

Bridge

I am the force that keeps you on course
I am the friend that you need I am the reason for your never ending season what would you be without me

Ref.:

I am the one who lets you breathe
I am the one who makes you live
I am the one who cries your tears
I am the one who suffers from your fears I am the one who picks you up when you are down to make you see there is still so much to come I am the soul that lives inside you
