

Endless, No Cover

you know the sky before the storm when the dark sun covers the clouds when all around us sadness falls before lightning kisses the ground we are scared

we are afraid
you can see the dust swallow the rain you can see the people run for cover you can see the dust swallow the rain you can hear the dark distant thunder I can feel your fear you stand frozen in the rain it's the way it has to be i'll always be with you my friend i'll move closer to you...safety we'll find we'll live through it together like so many times I can be your tree...your shelter from the storm but the help in my eyes is obviously lies