

Endless Struggle, Religious Fools

All of your rules are a bunch of shit
I try to drink a fucking beer and you can't deal with it maybe you should see the light what the world sees SLC is a bunch of religious fools always on there knees

[chorus:]

We are the future, you are the past
What will become will we ever last sometimes I see the screen and see all the hate you try to place the blame on us, but its what you create separation of church and state, what a bunch of shit you shove your rules down our throats make us deal with it

[chorus:]

how will you live is your own choice, your own choice not mine stay the fuck away from me let me live my life how you live is your own choice, your own choice not mine

[chorus:]

What will become will we ever last
