

Endor, Silence Again

Losing yourself
To all the shame
You're not to blame
The writings on the wall
But you didn't lose it all

Distance grows with every breath we take

Silent thoughts
On the horizon
Midnight falls
Between the lines

Making amends
Along the way for every day
The question still remains
Was it worth the price you paid?

Distance grows with every breath we take

Silent thoughts
On the horizon
Midnight falls
Between the lines

Alters burn away the reason
Ashes fall between the lies

Is this what it's worth?
Is this what you hoped for?
Standing on the edge
Spilling over
(Somewhere in between, somewhere far)
(Never looking back. Is this what you thought would last?)

Silence.
You stood so far away from silence...
Again
