

Endway, I Ain't No One

Let's keep this to ourselves, ain't that alright?
They can't hear us anyway they don't care, it don't matter. and me - I ain't no one.

I'll move on the day after today, catch my wave and I'll be gone
And now I'm saving myself
And I'm headed for shore.
There's time to spend on insignificance, there's time to spend on my own and in this day I feel I'm well.

There's a place that I'm going called I don't know where, but I'll be doing fine.

and me - I ain't no one, and I ain't no one

I've been trying to save us, I've been dying to say this It's your turn to wake up from out of no where it's your turn to wake up but nobody cares

Are you listening to these words of mine?
The meaning's hard to find, now we arise
