

Enemy You, Automaton

By the time you get this note I will be nowhere to be found
I know the secret and I'm going underground
My eyes have seen the things they never should have seen
And now they know it and they're coming for me

They'll keep trying in any way
But I'll be running every day (and I'll be hoping for you)

Automaton
Skins with cyborgs beneath
They're automatons
And they're coming after me

Only toil, strife and time have brought me to this end
Thought I was different but I'm just the same as them
And all the thoughts and ideas I believed were mine
Are only borrowed from someone from another time

Don't you cry for me today
I never had a chance anyway ('cause under my skin it's the same)

Automaton
Skins with cyborgs beneath
They're automatons
They're coming for me
They're automatons
Less man than machine
They're automatons
And they're just like you and me
