

Engelbert Humperdinck, Let Me Into Your Life

LET ME INTO YOUR LIFE

WRITERS PETE DE'ANGELIS, AL HOTLIN

Hurt you. How could anyone hurt you
Leave you How could anyone want to
You must forget him Turn away from your sorrow
Let me love you And I'll show you tomorrow
Just let me into your life Let me tear down the wall
That is keeping you outside the heart of you Let me into your life
If I can't have you all Then at least give me one little part of you
Let me into your life Trust in me
Let your heart learn to trust in me
Need me That's the way that it must be Just let me love you Can't you see I was made to Let me love you Why are you so afraid to
Just let me into your life Let me tear down the wall
That is keeping you outside the heart of you
Let me into your life
If I can't have you all Then at least give me one little part of you
Let me into your life Just let me into your life
I will love you forever if you let me into your life
