

Engerica, A Cure For Living

Walking slow, talking fast
Teacher says get to class
She hates him
He hates her
I hate them so much it hurts

Real life is not like a film
So try not to get too excited about anything
Because in the end you'll only be disappointed
Aim low and keep your head down
And people will admire you

Avoid making enemies because you never know when you might need that persons help
You can never have too many friends
Wear clothes that help you to blend in
And don't mark you out as being different

You're not there, you're not there
I'm not there, I'm not there

It's best not to mention what you're really thinking to anybody
As this can leave you vulnerable to attacks
Rather than state your own opinions
What don't you just repeat something that you read in a magazine?

You may cry from time to time and not know why
Again, mention this to no one
Whenever you feel down just go out with some friends for a drink
Or maybe have an affair with a member of the opposite sex

You're not there, you're not there
I'm not there, I'm not there

You can't sit back relax and wonder why
But that's not where the truth is but that's where it lies

And the room went boom in the middle of the night
And it feels so wrong yet it feels so right
And you've got me away the things that you say
You're so un-alone but that's not written
And it's everywhere and it's everything
That I've ever saw that I've ever sang

You're not there, you're not there
I'm not there, I'm not there
You're not there, you're not there
I'm not there, I'm not there
