

Engerica, Roadkill (acoustic)

What lies can say, the truth must show
Like fifteen kicks to my head
It cuts right through a fierce tattoo
But I don't want one

My first time was the worst time
And I'll take the long road home
It's not finding or timing
It's learning that you were wrong

My dad says don't take chances
Don't do drugs and don't trust fat kids
You'll find out when you're older
If I'm lying or if I've folded

It's not personal or irrational
Or anything that you said it was
Without meaning to sound deceiving
You're everything that you're not

Shake your finger, shake your finger, shake your finger, shake it!
Shake your finger, shake your finger, shake your finger, shake it!
Shake your finger, shake your finger, shake your finger, shake it!
Oh, oh, oh oh oh OH!

Liar liar, bursting tyres
Everything we set on fire
What you got, what you need
What you put inside of me
Whoa no here comes the funk
Everything down a tornado
Liars get fires set but I won't wait

You're disgusting
You did a bad thing
Now everything's all gone wrong
It's not obsession, it's just affection
A burning misery for no one

UH!
