

Engine, Realize

I've stood under black skies with my eyes closed tight
Impossible I know, with my arms outstretched
I give up this ghost

Let me inside your head I'll make you understand
The darkness inside me and you will realize pain

Well I'm reaching for some complacency
A fraction of your own reality
With tunnel vision I realize
I have to feel this way

Let me inside your head I'll make you understand
The darkness inside me and you will know suffering
