

England Dan And John Ford Coley, Just Tell Me

many times, i wished you were here through the velvet shadows of my dreams many times, i wished you were near through the darkness as it came but it seems that you, you never said what i needed to hear just tell me you love me whisper words i so long to hear let this time not be borrowed let it be ours to share

if you tell me you love me it will lead the way to your heart through the mereness of silence
you love me

quietly i've waited for the memory born of our first kiss patiently, ive waited for the moment you will take me to world that i ive never seen that world before
