Eno, Brian, Put A Straw Under Baby

Put a straw under baby Your good deed for the day Put a straw under baby Keep the splinters away.

Let the corridors echo As the dark places grow Hear Superior's footsteps On the landing below.

There's a place in the orchard Where no one dare go The last nun who went there Turned into a crow.

Turned into a crow-crow Turned into a crow The last nun who went there Turned into a crow.

There's a brain in the table There's a heart in the chair And they all live in Jesus It's a family affair.
