

Entombed, Descent Into Inferno

I have faith and I will travel
Such sights I've never seen
There are wrists that need to be slit
It is the passage to where I've never been

Everyday when I wake up I know I've failed
Something to live for is hard to find
I'd like to think that I know tomorrow
I need to leave it all behind

I'm descending into inferno
And I'm burning in hell
All earthly crises has left with my own life
Down here I dwell

All my power goes to survival
A don't eat enough to do something else
It's time to quit about time to betray
Cuz all my head is full of is hells bells

I'm descending into inferno
And I'm burning in hell
All earthly crises has left with my own life
Down here I dwell
