

Entombed, Insanity's Contagious

My brain sometimes intends to walk away
Somehow my hat seems to hold it together
But if I feel like slipping away for a bit
All I have to do is take my hat off

I'm tired of hating
And feeling down
My ears they're bleeding
And I'm getting old

I wanna live
Live in the town
Where everybody is young and no-one has died

Last night I dreamt about throwing up worms
And my big black cat turned into a crippled rat

Insanity's contagious
So am I
Got plugs in my ears
To keep my thoughts within

I wanna live
Live in a town
Where everybody is young and no-one has died

Insanity's contagious
In a town
Where everybody is young and no-one has died
