

Entwine, Frozen By The Sun

I will keep on looking far beyond the sun
I've never felt this way before
That all we know is there
Lost within the nothingness
And all we feel is here
Here inside this emptiness

The pain is getting strong
It's getting stronger than me
But I will never lose my faith in you

I can't bring you back
I threw it all away
(when I lied to you)

Here I lie beside the angel of betrayal
I hear the voices calling my name

The pain is getting strong
It's getting stronger than me
But I will never lose my faith in you

I can't bring you back
I threw it all away

So distant you've become is haunting me
I've done wrong but could you forgive me?

I hear your voice calling my name
You see me cryin'
You see me dyin'
And losing all my faith

I can't bring you back
(though I tried)
I threw it all away

So distant you've become it's haunting me
I've done wrong but could you forgive me?
