Epica, Veniality

Searching for what she can't find For her own peace of mind

She can't forgive, nor forget the past These ineffable feelings and hurt that last evermore

Bewail the truth, the face of fate, and conquer all the past

Don't enthrall yourself, let the penance begin You've got to open your heart to see the confinement

Bewail the truth, the face of fate, and conquer all the past (2x)

It seems so futile, forgiveness, your freedom the present state of veniality

Bewail the truth, the face of fate, and conquer all the past (3x) Search for the light, and then you'll find your own peace of mind