

Epiclore, Fatherland

A knight in a kingdom's keep...
The valiant and fierce that I lead, they depend on the glorious king A child of the guild I am, we speak for the promised land now I share my beliefs with the wind

And deep in my heart I'm eager to fight and win ("...forces flowing through your soul...")

Fatherland, I reach for thee
Grace upon the realm - the greatest victory
Through the deeds along the quest of mine you'll live inside of me until the end of time

The wind, as the lore of time brings a lament from the sky and I reckon that something is on I'll enter the no-man's-land with a glimmering blade in my hand the endeavour for power and glory has begun...

Tears of blood will be shed on our way even right from the start There's a force to prevent disarray, deep in my heart... the love to my home I'm eager to fight and win
("...forces flowing through your soul...")

Fatherland, I reach for thee
Grace upon the realm - the greatest victory
Through the deeds along the quest of mine
you'll live inside of me until the end of time
