

Erase The Grey, Rain

Everything she loved has left her
In one way or another
So blindly, she calls out
In the middle of this sleepless night
Those scars that dig so deep
This piece of mind that's just not right
She looks up to the sky
She calls out, and she says
My life is falling down like rain
And I'll be the one to drown
My whole world is nothing but pain
And I'll be the one to drown
Her eyes as blue as the life she leads Never thinking what she could have been
Why me, she calls out
In the middle of this heartless night
How could the one she loves most
Give her the pain she feels inside
She looks up to the sky
She calls out, and she says
Let your rain fall down on me
