

Erasure, Tenderest Moments

We go down to a foreign land
Dive through the clouds
You hold the guided light in your hands

This must be all that there is
Times don't come much more beautiful

You can show me places that my eyes have never seen
I'm following you, where are you taking me to?
You could be my angel who just walks out of a dream
I'm following you, where are you taking me to?
I have all faith in you
And these tenderest moments

We circle low
Embrace the night as she draws us in
A holy shroud, a veil to hide our tenderest moments

This must be all that there is
Times don't come much more beautiful

You can show me places that my eyes have never seen
I'm following you, where are you taking me to?
You could be my angel who just walks out of a dream
I'm following you, where are you taking me to?
I have all faith in you
And these tenderest moments

This must be all that there is
Times don't come much more beautiful

You can show me places that my eyes have never seen
I'm following you, where are you taking me to?
You could be my angel who just walks out of a dream
I'm following you, where are you taking me to?
I have all faith in you
And these tenderest moments