

Erben der Sch, Alone

Though we lived together
We always were alone
Our love it didn't matter
And now you're gone
Dark lies the sea
And you on it's ground
You went to be free
Far far beyond
Oceans of tears
Are floating of my eyes
The nights are full of fears
And the sun does never rise
Though we lived together
We always were alone
Our love it, didn't matter
And now you're gone
Though we lived together
We always were alone
Our love it, didn't matter
And now you're gone
The world has lost it's colours
They have faded away
Every day is full of sorrows
and I cannot stay
I want to end my sorrow
My way into the sea
And I have to follow
My lover to be free
Could the ocean grabs me
And fills my lungs with pain
Darkness is around me
My crying is in vain
Lover see I'm coming
Through this wall of blue
I hope that you are knowing
It's all for you
Though we lived together
We always were a lone
Our love it, didn't matter
And now you're gone
Though we lived together
We always were alone
Our love it, didn't matter
And now you're gone
