

Eric Mantel, Only Want Your Love

All all my life is but a dream searching for someone it seems, come to me now.
And still you keep going on hoping that the day will come, come to you now.

But still you keep holding on to a dream that's only gone, gone to you now.
And still I keep holding on to a dream that's only gone, gone to you now.

Only want your love Only want your love...

All all my life is but a maze trying to figure out a way, way out of here.
And still you keep holding on hoping that the day will come, come to you now.

Only want your love Only want your love...
